John Sheehan discussed the strategy of doing fuel breaks and developing an analysis of what works and what doesn't work. Randy Wilson brought up that there is still a no fly zone over the fire area in the Canyon. Randy suggested that PNF and the FAA coordinate with each other to update the system to open up the airspace after the fire is out. Barbara Drake would like to see more consistencies with burning regulations. Randy mentioned that there was a control burn in the area last year on Halloween. He suggested that PNF be aware of the community activities before performing a control burn. John Sheehan wanted to reiterate in the letter that the cost of suppression of fires and the loss of the assets are phenomenal as well as the cost of restoration and the watershed rehabilitation is a no-win situation.
